The Assassination of Charlie Kirk : Turning Point USA

I predict the assassination of political and Christian youth leader Charlie Kirk will radicalize the American right as the death of George Floyd's death radicalized the Black Lives Matter and Antifa far left in May of 2020. Online media is flooded with "civil war" memes. My analysis.

For South Africans used to political assassinations and left wing/right wing violence the assassination of Charlie Kirk might not mean much. But for America the stability of a national order is now questioned and in an increasingly fracturing world a violent internal struggle in America will affect the whole world.

That is why the international news headlines, world leaders comments and social media turmoil.

Just a quick background on Charlie Kirk and his powerful political and Christian activist organization called Turning Point USA.

Charlie Kirk founded Turning Point USA (TPUSA) in 2012 at the age of 18. The organization was established with the stated mission of promoting principles of an American Western Civilisation based on Christian teachings and values. His outreach was concentrated on high school and college campuses across the United States. Initially, its focus was on countering what it perceived as liberal indoctrination in educational institutions and energizing young conservatives.

Over the years, TPUSA's message has expanded to encompass a broader range of conservative and populist themes, aligning closely with the platform of Donald Trump and the MAGA movement. The organization became prominent and enthusiastic supporters of Donald Trump's 2016 presidential campaign and have continued to be a significant force in mobilizing young voters for the Republican Party in subsequent elections.

It is acknowledged by most political analysts that the literally hundreds of thousands of youth activists that TPUSA activated after the defeat of Donald Trump in 2020 election over the next 4 years to the 2024 elections was the principle reason Trump was able to win in 2024. Charlie Kirk organized on the ground precinct door-knocking youth activists across America dramatically increasing the Republican Party numbers in members but especially on campuses of universities' Literally thousands of young people would enthusiastically attend his campus rallies. It became "cool" to be Republican and Christian.

Charlie Kirk and his TPUSA national organization was to be a critical weapon in the Republican and MAGA movement for mobilizing voters for the 2026 mid-term elections and the 2028 Presidential election.

That is why the assassination of Charlie Kirk and the attempted assassination of Donald Trump were desperate political acts of violence to materially affect the power and social structure of America....and thereby the world.

There is something miraculous in both the rifle shots aimed at Trump and Kirk.

The shot at Trump miraculously missed his head when Trump at last moment turned his head and the shot hit his ear.

The shot aimed at Charlie Kirk was equally miraculous. Kirk was wearing body armour under his shirt and the shot hit his chest and bounced off the armour but went through the side of his throat killing him.

Christians rejoiced at Trump's escape as a sign of God's protection and purpose for Trump as God's man for America.

Christians are asking "but why Charlie Lord," Charlie was the standout man of God, family man, a wonderful example to young men, a Christian values warrior fighting "woke" LGBTQ, abortions etc. A great debater, organizer and public activist. Why did that rifle shot hit? Charlie did what he could to protect himself and yet....where was angelic protection? Yes these questions are swirling among Christians.

More importantly though are the radical commentaries and debates now everywhere among both Christian and MAGA Republican media influencers. The talk is turning to retaliation and kinetic fighting. I will quote an alarming example of how extreme the rhetoric is now by quoting a very influential Christian activist but will not give his name. Just read what the political temperature is like among the Christians in America....it is alarming!

The Coming Fall of MAGA movement in America

I need to analyze the death of Charlie Kirk within the context of a developing realization among the Republican Make America Great Again (MAGA) movement that things are beginning to fall apart for the objectives of MAGA.

Charlie Kirk represented that great part of MAGA and Christian activism that if we only can get control of congress and political power we can turn America around. Charlie was critical to that strategy for 2026 and 2028 to consolidate the political power of 2024. It started in the 2016 election.

In 2016, Lance Wallnau authored the book "God's Chaos Candidate: Donald J. Trump and the American Unraveling," in which he famously portrayed Donald Trump as a "wrecking ball" to the political establishment. Wallnau likened Trump to king Cyrus whose destiny was to bless Israel and release their captivity. The idea of Trump as the next 45th president and Cyrus in Isaiah 45 was noted. As Cyrus did not know God and was yet destined to be God's man for Israel so Donald Trump a real publican and not really acceptable to evangelical Christians is God's man to bless Israel and thereby bless America and Make America Great Again (MAGA).

This quickly caught on across the evangelical community in America and especially Charlie Kirk's TPUSA movement. They became ardent foot soldiers for the Trump and MAGA revolution as God's man for America.

But just 7 months into a Trump presidency America is in even greater trouble economically, politically and geopolitically. The goals of MAGA government are slipping away. Let me give you some random indications:

Israel the key to America's blessing from God, requiring the ongoing American financial and military support is a great millstone around America's neck. The Gaza slaughter of Palestinians by Israel's IDF is a humanitarian disaster. Kirk's young people support is overwhelmingly turning anti-Israel. Israel is going full "Amalek" slaughter of Palestinians as well as the bombing of all the nations on its borders.

The entire "God's Chaos Candidate" template of God's Cyrus leader through chaos and breaking up international alliances and domestic politics will build a new American prosperity is falling apart.

The chaos of international tariffs on both friends and enemies is economically ruinous. It is driving American friends like Brazil and India into the arms of China and Russia.

The seizing of Russian US treasury assets is driving nations out of buying American treasuries at a time when America needs to finance $37 trillion in debt and causing a huge spike in long bond yields. America cannot survive long bond yields of 5%. The interest payments at those levels are impossible for America to pay without destroying the value of the dollar through the inflation of endless printing of fiat dollars.

The economic battle with China is already lost. China has won. China stopped buying American farm exports of corn and soybeans. A major portion of this year's American harvest is unsold and prices have tanked. A third of America's mid-west grain farmers can lose their farms. This is the heart of MAGA country....getting disillusioned.

The Ukraine's war is lost. Russia has beaten not just Ukraine but the NATO arms and forces brought against it. Trump promised no more wars when he is elected. Instead he has continued to support Ukraine with money and weapons. As well as bombing Iran and supporting Israel's war with Iran. The American defence budget has increased under Trump, not decreased.

China is withholding critical rare earths that American armaments manufacturers need to make munitions, jets, bombs. Rearming America's military for MAGA will not be possible without China's permission.

The difference between America's military and China's military was graphically seen by the military parade on Trump's birthday in June past the White House and China's military parade last week in Beijing. No comparison and the world noted the difference.

While America built and maintains over 700 military bases around the world China has one military base (in Djibouti) but China owns 147 shipping ports around the world they mostly built and maintain. Last year China built 900 ships, America 0. China is building 2 new coal power stations per week.

Domestically in America the massive problem of the promise to repatriate 14 million illegal aliens that arrived under the Biden administration is proving to be a very divisive and socially disruptive task. It is beginning to be obvious it will never be done.

I watched a recent interview by a panel discussion with Elon Musk where he was asked, "What did you learn in your recent work with DOGE in making the government more efficient". His answer:
"The government does not work and cannot be fixed".

The discussion from there went on to a theme being discussed in various panel discussions under theme of "The suicide of the West"...how did we get here that in both Europe and America Western Civilization is committing suicide. No children, no families, mass migrations of non-assimilating foreigners, non-functional governments, no public morality.

The core of the MAGA world that Charlie Kirk was the fighter for making a new political order that will make America great again is getting the message that Elon Musk says out-loud. Government does not work. So what is the use of political activism. Or by implication American government does not work but China and Russia's government does.

More and more the discussion is turning into the alternative - American Civil War 2.0 as per 1861 North vrs South but this time, Red States - Blue States. Apartheid, separate development. We will do Christian republics in our red states you do woke ideology in your blue states. And there is a militant woke left movement that is ok with that.

The assassination of Charlie Kirk was a major act of political terrorism to hasten the civil war. To end the reasonable voices like Charlie Kirk who believed in civil debate and public discourse. Powerful forces want that voice of reason silenced.

This is not just happening in America it is also happening in Europe. In the last number of weeks 7 political candidates for the right wing German AFD party died mysteriously. The right movement across Europe is getting out in the streets, the riots have started and so have the political killings.

If you want to get a feel for the new rhetoric from one of America's important Christian podcasters and bloggers I will print below without naming names. Just realize this type of rhetoric is circulating among Christians after Charlie Kirk's death and you can see the implications for America's future social order, It is dark and menacing. Let me be clear I am not endorsing this rhetoric. I think Charlie Kirk's approach was right.

My Analysis....

Yes the assassination of Charlie Kirk is a new Turning Point USA...but not in the direction he worked his life for

Quote from "Rise You Men of the West" blog

(an obvious allusion to the inspiring speech of Aragorn in front of the gates of Mordor in the Tolkien's Lord of the Rings)

I have watched thousands of leftists across the web cheer for the death of that innocent girl.( He means the lovely blond immigrant girl stabbed to death by a 14 times convicted felon on a subway) I have watched hundreds-of-thousands of them cheer for trans mass shooters after they killed Christian kids, just as they now cheer for the death of Charlie Kirk.

They can barely contain their glee. They blame Kirk and his beliefs as the catalyst; as if he is being punished for a crime. They say “people are fed up with right wing violence”, but where is this violence? It doesn’t exist. The claim is gaslighting on an epic level. The only violence we have seen for the past decade has been from the political left. Normally this behavior would be called terrorism.

Riots in the streets, innocent people assaulted, Christian events attacked, multiple assassination attempts and a slew of mass shootings, all from politically motivated leftists. And the only thing they can come up with is January 6th, a short lived riot which was CAUSED by Capitol Police shooting peaceful protesters with rubber bullets and tear gas.

What was Charlie Kirk’s real crime? He committed the most egregious sin there is when it comes to the political left – He told the truth without shame. For this, he was murdered.

I didn’t necessarily agree with Kirk on every issue. In particular, I think he put far too much stock in the idea that public debate would make a difference. I think it has diminishing returns. Progressives only seem to get worse with each argument they lose. They only become more unhinged, more violent. Trying to reason with such zealots is a waste of energy, but at least it gets the message out to the normies, if there are any normies left.

The reliance on public debate is part of a deeper problem within conservative and populist movements; we tend to cling to the notion that we are fighting a political battle and that this battle can be won by being the most factual, the most reasonable, the most right.

As I have always said: Leftists do not care about being right. They only care about winning.

We have been engaging in civics while the woke cult engages in sabotage, mob violence, child grooming and assassination. Conservatives are naturally reticent to abandon order or abandon the law. The political left knows this – they count on it. They know we are limited in how we fight back because we have an expectation that the system can be corrected and reformed.

The problem is that the system is infected. It's infested by parasites. In order for social discourse to achieve anything constructive, both sides have to be patriotic. Both sides have to love their culture and country to a certain degree and want the best for the future. Leftists and globalists HATE the west. They hate the US. They want to turn it to dust. They want the memory of it erased from history. There is no level of reason or diplomacy that can dissolve their bitter psychopathy.

This is not to say that conscience and respect for order is a weakness. If we didn't have these things then we would be no better than the progressives. My point, however, is that we need to come to grips with the reality that total war has been declared against the west and we must start acting like we are at war if our civilization is going to survive.

This is where I part ways with many of my colleagues. This problem is not about American citizens in disagreement. This is not about the old days of polite political dysfunction. Again, this is a war, a shooting war and a mind war. I'm not interested in the constitutional rights of people who have declared war on me, my country and the very freedoms they hide behind.

If they want to burn the west to the ground to usher in their own dystopian collectivist vision, then the only logical response is to burn THEM to the ground.

Frankly, I see martial law as nothing more than a stop gap even with the best of intentions; like giving someone morphine for their Stage 4 cancer. It feels good and takes the pain away for a little while but on the inside the body is still dying. Martial law doesn't go far enough. The time for measured responses is over.

Consider for a moment, though, what the natural alternative is? What is going to happen next? It's not hard to predict: It's going to be open season on leftist activists and the elites who fund them. It's going to be widespread vigilantism. And, honestly I welcome it. I wish that this was not necessary, but I accept the reality that it is inevitable.

I don't think leftists understand what is about to happen. I think they have gotten away with their evil for so long they think they are untouchable. In truth, the only reason they continue to exist is because of men like Charlie Kirk who put so much value in traditional and peaceful opposition. Whoever the shooter is, they killed one of the nice guys.

When we witness a defining moment like the assassination of Kirk, it's important to hold these images in our minds, as horrible as they are. Civilized society is quick to move on and absorb the next tragedy without properly dwelling on their rage. We need to be much angrier than we are.

Is vengeance the answer? I would say balance is the answer. Justice is the answer. For now, there is no justice. There is no balance.

What I see is a culture under siege on every level and we are not taking these attacks seriously enough. How much longer can we endure mass invasions from the third world? How much longer can we endure the indoctrination of our children? How much longer can we allow our speakers to be silenced, by censorship or by the bullet? How much longer will our neighborhoods remain safe when career criminals are protected by the system?

People who hate the west and want to see the west harmed should be kicked out. NGOs and corporations that fund these activists need to be shut down and scattered to the winds, by force if necessary. People and groups that actively seek to cripple the west and exploit or kill western citizens need to be eliminated. This is not complicated.

Men of the west must stand and defend themselves. We must defend our principles, our ideals and our people. This means destroying all enemies, foreign and domestic. This means patriots going to war.
